

Anime Protagonist Power Comparison Sheet

This reference sheet compares the protagonists of five landmark shonen and seinen anime series, spanning classic 2000s battle anime through the recent webtoon-adaptation boom. Each protagonist reaches their strongest known form through a distinct path — inherited power, martial training, a system-driven leveling mechanic, supernatural rules, or an evolving breathing technique — making direct power comparisons a common source of fan debate.

The table below lists each character's signature technique, the studio behind their anime adaptation, and the year their series first aired, as a quick-reference sheet rather than a definitive power ranking.

Protagonist Comparison Table

Character	Anime	Signature Technique	Studio	First Aired
Naruto Uzumaki	Naruto	Rasengan	Pierrot	2002
Son Goku	Dragon Ball	Kamehameha	Toei Animation	1986
Sung Jin-Woo	Solo Leveling	Shadow Extraction	A-1 Pictures	2024
Light Yagami	Death Note	Death Note Rules	Madhouse	2006
Tanjiro Kamado	Demon Slayer	Hinokami Kagura	ufotable	2019

Note: "First Aired" reflects the debut year of each character's flagship television anime adaptation, not the original manga, webtoon, or novel publication date, which in most cases predates the anime by one to several years.